VA Long Beach Healthcare System Promotes Suicide Prevention h #BeThere Campaign Urges Our Community to Support Veterans

Long Beach, CA — In observance of Suicide Prevention, VA Long Beach Healthcare System is bringing awareness to its #BeThere campaign by encouraging community leaders, colleagues, and Veterans' families and friends to help prevent suicide by showing support for those who may be going through a difficult time.

Suicide is a complex national public health issue that affects communities nationwide, with more than 45,000 Americans, including more than 6,000 Veterans, dying by suicide every year. But suicide is preventable. VA is using a community-driven approach to prevent suicide and finding innovative ways to deliver support and care to all 20 million U.S. Veterans whenever and wherever they need it.

"Less than 1% of our citizens have earned the right to be called a Veteran. They served, so that the remaining 99% of us could live out our days both free and able to seek out the American Dream. Now, it's time for the 99% of us to insure our Veterans know they matter, we are grateful, and we care. With a little effort as collective nation, we can prevent the terrible consequences of suicide and the terrible impact it has on our families and communities"

The VA Long Beach Healthcare System and its many partners are working hard to end Veteran suicide, but we know that only about a third of Veterans come to VA for health care. That's why we need everyone in the community to get involved, not just on Veterans day, but all year. Your local VA encourages everyone to take a moment to be there for Veterans in need. One act of thoughtfulness can make a big difference and may even save a life."

You don't need special training to prevent suicide. Everyone can play a role by learning to recognize warning signs, showing compassion and care to Veterans in need, and offering your support. Here are some actions anyone can take to Be There:

- Reach out to the Veterans in your life to show them you care. Send a check-in text, cook them dinner, or simply ask, "How are you?"
- Educate yourself on the warning signs of suicide, found on the Veterans Crisis Line website.
- Watch the free S.A.V.E. training video to equip yourself to respond with care and compassion if someone you know indicates they are having thoughts of suicide.
- Check out VA's Social Media Safety Toolkit to learn how to recognize and respond to social media posts that may indicate emotional distress, feelings of crisis or thoughts of suicide.
- Contact VA's Coaching Into Care program if you are worried about a Veteran loved one. A licensed psychologist or social worker will provide guidance on motivating your loved one to seek support.

Veterans who are in crisis or having thoughts of suicide, and those who know a Veteran in crisis, can call the Veterans Crisis Line for confidential support available 24 hours a day, seven days a week, 365 days a year. Call 1-800-273-8255 and Press 1, text to 838255 or chat online at VeteransCrisisLine.net/Chat.
